

Operations Manager full-time

Verity Studios is creating a new breed of dynamic flying machines and related systems, leveraging technological innovation, scientific principles, advanced algorithms, and the art of design in unprecedented ways. We are excited about using technology to transform live entertainment and other industries.

As Verity Studios' flying machines come to stages worldwide and production volumes rise, we are seeking to complement our engineering team with an experienced operations manager, who will guide our production processes of flying machines and support equipment from material sourcing through to complete product manufacture and continued quality assurance.

Your tasks

- Coordinate and drive operational requirements of high-tech, high-value products, including manufacturing, assembly, test, shipping, and warranty/repair
- Manage Verity Studios' supply chains for mechanical and electronic components, with vendors in Europe and abroad
- Manage the operations of on-going production, with continuous improvement of quality and reliability
- Collaborate with Engineering in New Product Introduction phases for efficient project hand-over with no gaps between design intent and the final product delivered to the customer
- Establish a scalable inventory system, and build a structured operations team as production volumes grow

Benefits

- Work in an interdisciplinary, international team of highly skilled people
- Competitive salary
- Shape the culture and have a significant impact in a young and rapidly growing, high-tech company

Prerequisites

- Experience as operations lead
- Experience in material sourcing, inventory management, PLM, MRP, ERP
- Good understanding of industry regulations and quality control procedures
- Good communication skills in English and German

How to apply

Submit a single PDF to [careers \[at\] veritystudios.com](mailto:careers@veritystudios.com) (subject "[j-014]") including:

- Resume/CV
- Transcripts of relevant degrees
- Contact information of two references

Incomplete applications will not be pursued. Applications will be considered until the position is filled.

